Mayo Clinic
research reveals what your poop is trying to tell you!

When was the last time you really looked at your poop?

Dear friend,

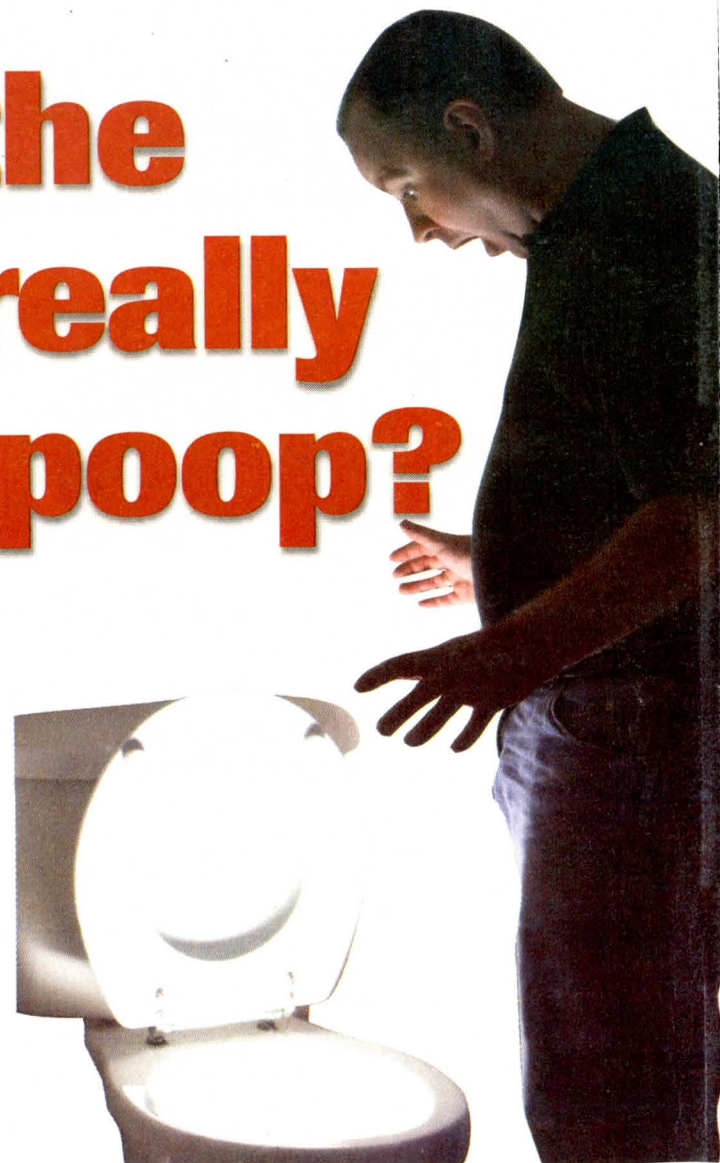

If it takes you two... three... four... or more days to have a bowel movement or...

...If you grunt and strain to poop, or...

...Eliminate black, hard, “pellet stool,” or...

...Pass pencil-thin or mucus-filled bowel movements that smell to high heaven...

...Then this urgent message is for you!

My name is Layne Lowery, president of Health Resources™ — America's leader in nutritional supplements that really work. If you suffer from any of these bowel problems — then please listen to this experience about a woman named Ann.

Ann's story nearly broke my heart when I heard about it — and it motivated me to send you this urgent, life-saving special bulletin today. Because...

Let me tell you right now: Ann's story does not end with “happily ever after.” In fact, it's tragic.

And what's even sadder is:

Her tragedy didn't have to happen at all!

It could've been avoided.

But unfortunately Ann's story is not uncommon — it happens much too often. But I don't want it to ever happen to you or a loved one.

Ann was in her 40's. She had a weight problem most of her adult life and frequently experienced bowel problems...

Sometimes it would take her three... five... seven days or more to have a bowel movement. And when she did, she experienced excruciating pain.

This went on for many years. But then things suddenly changed.

The constipation finally stopped — but now Ann began suffering with loose stools. In fact, she struggled with chronic diarrhea for over 15 years!

She took the over-the-counter “pink stuff” and her doctors prescribed other chalky medications to stop the diarrhea. Then one day suddenly...

Ann died.

Fecal matter was found in her mouth.

An autopsy found the circumference of her colon — which should’ve measured just two inches wide...

...was over 12 inches in some areas of her colon — that’s SIX TIMES wider than normal!

Plus, her colon was hard like cement and so impacted with fecal matter, doctors had to break it apart with a chisel!

Turns out the “pink stuff” and the other chalky medications kept coating the lining of her colon. And over the years, the layers of coating finally closed any opening.

Invasion of the body snatchers!

Here’s why you may be at serious risk...

You may think getting parasites can’t happen to you. After all, you’re a clean person, right? You wash your hands before eating, right? You don’t travel out of the country, right? So you can’t possibly have a problem with parasites, right?

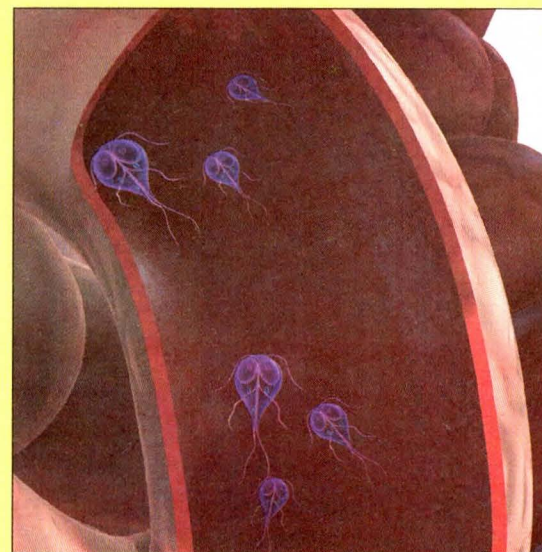

WRONG! Check this out...

According to Dr. James F. Balch and Dr. Morton Walker, authors of Heartburn and What To Do About It: In the suburban town of Elmhurst, NY, a test sampling of people with digestive complaints showed that 51 out of 67 patients — that’s a whopping 76%! — were found to have at least one parasitic organism!

The truth is: Anybody can get parasites — and Dr. Mehmet Oz reported on the Oprah show that 90% of Americans have parasites — and don’t even know it!

You may have parasites if you:

- Eat fresh fruits and vegetables
- Drink tap water
- Have children or grandchildren — especially if they attend day care centers!
- Have household pets
- Eat raw foods such as sushi

and steak tartare

- Take antibiotics and over-the-counter drugs
- Use public transportation
- Shake hands with people
- Eat fish or pork products not properly cooked
- Have sexual contact with multiple partners
- Travel to foreign countries

What’s more, parasites can range from undetectable, microscopic organisms to 15-ft long tapeworms living inside your body — and robbing you of essential nutrients!

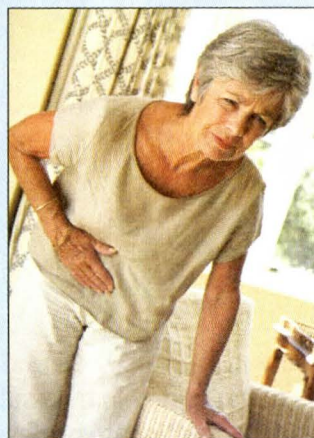

Are you secretly suffering from parasites?

If you’re experiencing some of these symptoms — the answer may be YES:

- ☐ Bloody or foul-smelling stools
- ☐ Abdominal pain, cramps, and gas
- ☐ Anal itching and bleeding
- ☐ Diarrhea and/or constipation
- ☐ Vomiting and weight loss
- ☐ Headaches
- ☐ Low back pain
- ☐ Skin rash and itching

- ☐ Digestive problems
- ☐ Food allergies
- ☐ Inflammatory bowels
- ☐ Irritable bowels
- ☐ Anorexia
- ☐ Joint pain
- ☐ Fatigue

In her book, The Cure For All Cancers, Dr. Hulda Regehr Clark recommends taking parasite-killing herbs. One of these potent herbs is called black walnut bark.

Black walnut bark has been proven to kill both parasites and their larva. That’s why Advanced Colon Care II™ contains this powerful parasite killer in every serving!

The diarrhea she was desperately trying to treat was actually her body's way of signaling distress — and nature's only way of keeping her alive.

By using the medications to stop the diarrhea — her bowels shut down.

Ann had to eliminate through her bowels, but with her colon closed off, fecal matter had nowhere to go — so it backed up and choked her to death.

The sad truth is: Ann chose a temporary solution for her bowel problems — but she never addressed her real problem:

a colon clogged with impacted fecal matter!

That's why noted expert, Dr. Norman Walker, author of Colon Health: The Key to a Vibrant Life boldly states:

“The most prevalent ailment afflicting civilized people is constipation”

There's no doubt about it: If you can't regularly and properly empty your bowels — you will wreak havoc with every cell... organ... and gland in your body. What's more...

Without daily elimination and colon cleansing — your blood-stream and lymph system can become overloaded with toxins... send poisons throughout your entire body... and clog up your cells with disease-causing mucus!

Ann's experience is a wake-up call for every American. So what about you? Are you experiencing...

- Occasional constipation or diarrhea
- Irritable bowels
- Smelly elimination
- Embarrassing gas
- Cramping
- Bloating
- Digestive distress
- Bad breath
- Straining to have a bowel movement
- Heartburn

“90% of Americans have parasites and don’t even know it”

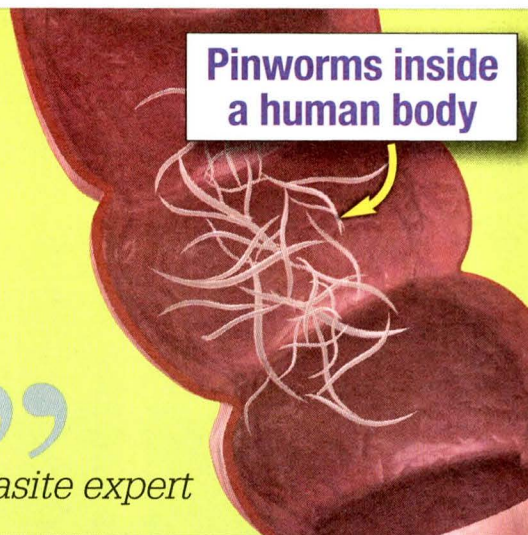

—Dr. Mehmet Oz reports on the Oprah show

Imagine the look on your face if you passed a 15-ft tapeworm!

The audience on the Oprah show got to see that 15-ft tapeworm when Dr. Mehmet Oz explained what common parasites really are! What’s more...

“Parasites such as pinworm, hookworm, roundworm, and tape worm feed mostly on sweets and refined sugars. They develop colonies in the colon and rectum and leave the colon irritated and raw.”

—Dr. June Wiles, noted parasite expert

Parasites can mimic common health problems — and can go undetected for DECADES!

If you experience unexplainable health problems like fatigue... skin outbreaks... muscle soreness... mental fatigue... or irritability...

...Chances are your body is under attack by parasites! It’s true, here’s why:

According to noted parasite expert June Wiles, Ph.D.:

“Parasites are vermin that steal your food, drink your blood, and leave their excrement in your body to be reabsorbed into the

New research shows if you suffer from diarrhea — you may actually be constipated!

Surprising but true! Please read on...

Have you ever stayed home or skipped a special event because you couldn’t trust your bowels? I don’t have to tell you how loose stools can really mess up your life!

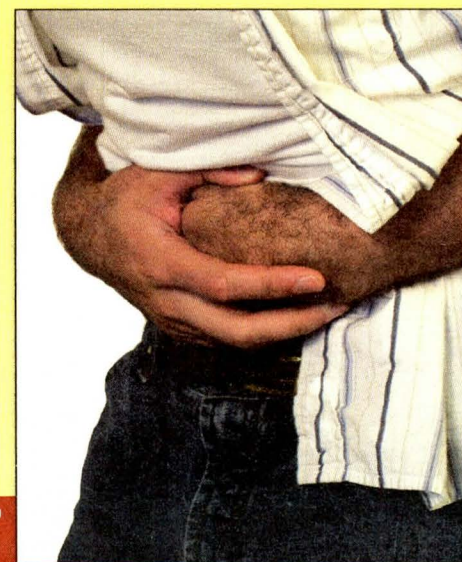

But did you know loose stools or diarrhea are actually a sign of constipation? It’s true: Here’s why:

Researchers in colon health have discovered when colon walls are heavily lined with fecal matter — they can’t properly remove moisture and nutrients from the foods that make their way through your intestines. The results?

Since your colon is experiencing “fecal overload” — it simply allows new foods to run right through you! And that means you get no nutrients from the foods — and you experience a bad case of diarrhea!

That’s why it’s critical that you regularly remove these layers of fecal matter from your colon — and nothing does the job better than Advanced Colon Care II™!

bloodstream as nourishment — and only 25 of the 300 varieties of parasites can be seen without a microscope.”

And if you:

✓ Eat meats — including pork and fish!

✓ Drink tap water!

✓ Eat raw fruits and vegetables!

✓ Take antibiotics!

✓ Have pets!

✓ Eat at public restaurants —

especially “all you can eat” buffets!

✓ Work or live with children!

✓ Travel out of the country!

✓ Shake hands with people — or touch door knobs!

Then odds are — you may have parasites!

Dr. Oz shocked Oprah’s audience when he stated, “90% of Americans have parasites and don’t even know it.”

These parasites include lice, pinworms, tapeworms, hookworms, and roundworms — just to name a few!

And these little creatures — and their eggs — can create a host of health problems and ruin your life. In fact...

According to Teresa Schumacher and Toni Schumacher Lund, authors of Cleansing the Body and the Colon for a Happier and Healthier You:

“One in four people in the world are infected by roundworms

How clean is your colon? Take this quiz and see!

...it can reveal surprising facts about your health!

Kids are proud to show off their poop — but most adults rarely glance inside the toilet bowl. But the truth is...

...Examining your poop is one of the best ways to find out what’s really going on in your body.

So take this quick quiz to get the inside scoop on your poop!

■ Question #1: How long does it take you to have a bowel movement?

☐ Less than 60 seconds ☐ More than two minutes

Answer: Healthy bowel movements happen within 60 seconds of sitting on the toilet. The stool should easily come out without straining, grunting, or any discomfort. It should have the consistency of toothpaste. If you have time to read a newspaper while sitting on the toilet — you probably have a problem with constipation or poor bowel health.

■ Question #2: What is the shape of your stool?

☐ Long like a banana ☐ round, hard pellets ☐ thin, pencil-shaped

Answer: Healthy stool averages about four to six inches long and are shaped like a banana or a torpedo.

Very narrow, pencil-shaped stool is a sign your colon walls are impacted or you have polyps or growths on the inside of your colon or rectum. This causes the stool to squeeze to get through. Stress can also create narrow stool.

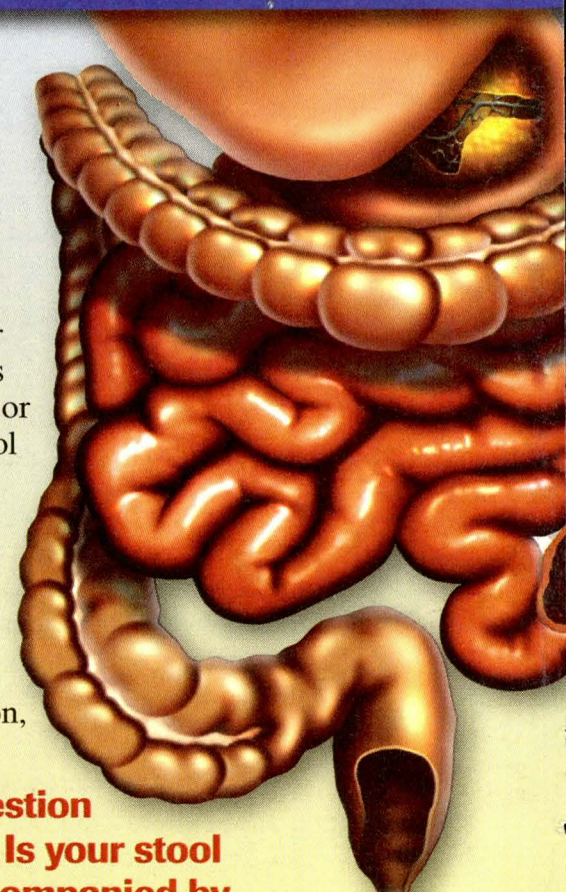

Hard, round, or pellet-shaped stool is a possible sign of poor liver function, lack of exercise, dehydration, or constipation.

■ Question #3: Is your stool accompanied by foul odor?

☐ Yes ☐ No

Answer: Gas or odor is a sign of a bacterial imbalance in your which cause fever, cough, and intestinal problems.”

And parasites can also trigger:

- Painful gas and bloating!
- Irritable bowels!
- Runny stools or diarrhea!
- Allergies!
- Skin outbreaks!
- Insomnia!
- Poor immune system!
- Muscle pain and joint soreness!
- And much more!

“There are hundreds of species of parasites ranging in size from microbial wigglers to 20-foot worms... parasites... and/or a plaque-coated intestinal tract could very well be the reason that some of you still don’t feel vital and well.”

—Teresa Schumacher and Toni Schumacher Lund, authors of Cleansing the Body and the Colon for a Happier and Healthier You look at your “masterpiece” intestinal flora. The “bad” bacteria release foul-smelling gases and toxins that can cramp your colon and create embarrassing odors.

You can eliminate this odor by removing debris and encrusted feces from the walls of your intestines and restoring the balance in your intestinal flora.

■ Question #4: What color is your stool?

- ☐ Yellow ☐ Green ☐ Brown
☐ Gray ☐ Black ☐ Bright red

According to Mayo Clinic research, all shades of brown and even green are considered normal stool colors. And the foods you eat can affect the color of your stool. For example, beets, tomato juice, blueberries, popsicles, and green leafy vegetables can affect your stool color. However, a distinct change in stool color can be a warning sign for health problems.

● Yellow-colored stool indicates your food is moving too quickly through your digestive tract — as in the case of diarrhea. If stool is greasy or foul-smelling, it may indicate excess fat caused by malabsorption of nutrients.

● Green-colored stool means your food isn’t properly being processed through your intestines. As a result, bile isn’t broken down — and gives your stool that green color. Green stool can also mean you’re eating too much sugar, fruits, and vegetables, and not enough grains or salt.

● Gray or ashy colored stool indicates undigested fats or heavy use of prescription or over-the-counter drugs that contain aluminum hydroxide. It can also indicate a lack of bile in the stool that may be caused by a bile duct obstruction.

● Black stool is a serious warning sign for bleeding in the upper gastrointestinal tract — possibly the stomach.

● Bright red stool may indicate bleeding in the lower intestinal tract — possibly the large intestine or rectum. Hemorrhoids may also be the source of the bleeding.

■ Question #5: Do you pass gas while you’re having a bowel movement or have you noticed air or bubbles in your stool? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Answer: Air or bubbles in stool can indicate an intestinal imbalance. Gas producing bacteria may be overgrowing and competing with the healthier flora in your gut.

Please know this: A normal bowel movement happens within 60 seconds of sitting on the toilet. There should be no straining, pain, bleeding, or foul odor accompanied with your bowel movements. And wiping afterwards should be easy and simple — using just one or two pieces of toilet paper!

If that’s not your experience in the bathroom — then you need to give your intestines a thorough internal cleaning!

■ The remaining byproducts that aren't absorbed by your body become waste matter that often contains parasites and their eggs. For optimum health, this waste matter should be eliminated from your body within 16 to 24 hours to prevent parasites from multiplying. If fecal matter is not eliminated — toxic buildup occurs.

Clockwork bowels! Yes — it's possible!

World renowned British physician, Dr. Dennis Burkitt taught the world the importance of regular, clockwork bowels when he studied the bowel habits of Indigenous Africans. Here's what he uncovered:

The African tribesmen experienced a rapid bowel transit time of four to six hours compared to 60 to 90 hours for folks eating a traditional “Western” diet.

What's more, tribesmen consistently experienced:

- Healthier bowels!
- Stronger hearts!
- Powerful digestive systems!
- Regular elimination!

What's their secret for regular, and healthy bowel movements?

Fiber!

According to the American Dietetic Association, most Americans consume only 12 to 17 grams of fiber daily but the recommended dose is 20 to 35 grams!

The African tribesmen studied by Dr. Burkitt consumed 75 to 100 grams of fiber daily! No wonder they had clockwork bowel movements!

Dr. Burkitt also showed that ten of our most serious health problems may be caused by a lack of sufficient fiber.

What's more, soluble fiber can help you maintain healthy cholesterol levels and promote cardiovascular health! So how can you boost your fiber intake — to help prevent these health problems?

Eat more fiber-rich foods like fruits, vegetables, beans, breads, and cereals! And for additional bowel support — take Advanced Colon Care II™ every day!

Claim your 100% RISK-FREE introductory pack of Advanced Colon Care II™ today — and receive up to 12 FREE gifts! See page 22 for details!

■ Painful bowel movements!

"Sacred Bark" gets your colon moving again!

Native Americans of the northwest Pacific coast traditionally used the potent "sacred bark" herb called Cascara sagrada to enhance bowel elimination for centuries.

Recently researchers discovered the power behind this potent herb: It naturally triggers peristalsis — the bowel contractions needed for healthy elimination!

Numerous other studies show Cascara sagrada is safe to use. That's why, in 1990, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) placed this potent bowel herb in "category I (safe and effective) as a laxative."

Yet Cascara sagrada is so gentle — even elderly folks and surgical patients can take it!

That's why you get a healthy dose of Cascara sagrada in every serving of Advanced Colon Care II™!

Here's what to do if you experience "Déjà Poo?"

Ever eat corn, beans, nuts or carrots — and discover whole remnants of those meals in your stool?

Did you think it was because you didn't chew properly?

According to Anish Sheth, M.D. and Josh Richman, authors of "What's Your Poo Telling You" — these foods have insoluble fibers that are very difficult for your digestive tract to break down — no matter how much you chew.

A simpler, easier way to eliminate constipation!

When a Native American tribesman experienced painful constipation, he had to go out into the forest and scrape off the rough outer bark of the massive slippery elm tree.

Then he pounded the bark into a powder and added water to create a “slippery” brew that was ideal for relieving constipation... soothing toothaches... and healing scrapes.

That's because he knew the power of the Slippery elm herb!

Fortunately, when occasional constipation strikes you — all you need is Advanced Colon Care II™!

This powerful formula contains a healthy dose of the slippery elm herb to help you get your bowels moving again!

What's more the FDA gives a hearty thumbs up to slippery elm and approves it as a "nonprescription soothing agent that can be taken internally!"
