Practical Solutions for Optimal Wellness

What to do when your blood pressure just won't go down

There's a little-known reason for blood pressure problems—and I'm going to reveal it to you right now

Dr. Michael Cutler

Dear friend,

If you're finding it downright impossible to maintain healthy blood pressure—even when you take several prescription medicines—what you're about to discover may shock you.

Researchers have found that a whopping 30% of the 74.5 million Americans struggling with their blood pressure suffer from a little-known health robber I call "Resistant Blood Pressure (RBP)". In other words...

...22.35 million folks continue to have blood pressure problems even though they:

- Exercise regularly!
- Stick to a healthy diet!
- And take three or more medicines—including water pills!

Is that you or a loved one?

If so, this special issue may have just come in the nick of time!

My name is Dr. Michael Cutler. You may know me as the editor of the popular health advisory, Easy Health Options™—dedicated to bring you cutting-edge solutions for your health problems.

But today, in this special issue, I want to focus on blood pressure—YOUR blood pressure. And I want to show you how you can have healthy blood pressure naturally.

So my promise to you is this: Give me just ten minutes of your time—and I will show you a breakthrough nutritional solution that helps you get your blood pressure under control—even if you've been struggling with it for years. In fact, you're about to discover...

Proven!

The three-step secret to healthy blood pressure—it works even when others fail!

In my practice, I've discovered the most successful way to keep your blood pressure healthy is to attack the three most overlooked culprits that can shoot your blood pressure through the roof. And this simple approach works—even when other attempts have failed in the past.

So follow this three-step approach—and you, too, can keep your blood pressure in the healthy range:

Next page, please...

Step #1: Remove calcium from your arteries for optimum blood flow!

Each and every day, your blood pumps through 100,000 miles of arteries, veins, and capillaries. The diameter of your veins and arteries affects the rate of blood flow and the amount of pressure needed to pass through your arteries. The bigger the opening, the less pressure is needed.

So what do you think happens when those blood vessels get lined with layers and layers of calcium plaque deposits?

You guessed it! The pathway narrows and your blood literally has to squeeze through those arteries and veins—causing your blood pressure to skyrocket.

Now, imagine a simple nutrient that can quickly help remove calcium from your blood vessels and keep them wide open for healthy blood flow.

It's called Vitamin K2. And here's why it's the first part of my three-step program for healthy blood pressure.

You probably know of the more common vitamin K1. This is the form of vitamin K that's readily available in green vegetables. And it's very important for normal blood clotting.

But vitamin K2—also known as menaquinone—is very different. Vitamin K2 is essential for your cardiovascular health because of its amazing ability to utilize calcium.

In fact, vitamin K2 acts like a shuttle bus service. It helps move unwanted calcium out of your arteries and delivers that calcium to your bones—where it's needed for bone health! Numerous studies show the amazing power of vitamin K2. For example...

Journal of Nutrition

The prestigious Rotterdam Study printed in the Journal of Nutrition shows patients with the highest levels of vitamin K2 experience better cardiovascular health.

An additional five-year follow-up study of more than 4,400 elderly patients confirmed the original findings: The more vitamin K2 in your body, the healthier your arteries!

Blood vessels lined with layers of calcium plaque deposits force blood to literally squeeze through—causing your blood pressure to skyrocket.

Clear blood vessels allow healthy blood flow!

But before you go taking any vitamin K2—please know this:

Not all vitamin K2 products are alike. In fact, most of the supplements on the market are downright misleading. Here's why:

Vitamin K2 contains many subtypes including MK-1 through MK-13. But without a doubt the subtype of vitamin K2 you need for healthy blood pressure is MK-7. This is the actual shuttle bus nutrient that moves calcium out of your arteries and into your bones!

But since MK-7 is expensive to produce, most vitamin companies give you the cheaper and inferior MK-4 subtype. Don't settle for this—it won't get the job done for you!

You need the bioavailable and highly active long chain MK-7 to constantly help remove calcium from your arteries to keep blood vessels wide open for healthy blood flow and normal blood pressure!

MK-7 has been shown in numerous studies to actually extract calcium from the blood and arteries. These are the calcium deposits that can line the walls of your arteries—and make blood flow more difficult. My friend, do you understand what this means?

With this amazing nutrient, you can help keep your arteries clear of dangerous calcium plaque... promote healthy blood flow... keep your blood pressure healthy and under control—and strengthen your bones to boot! All without any nasty side effects!

Now, after regularly removing calcium from your arteries with vitamin K2—you need this next step to promote healthy blood flow...

Step #2: Relax your arteries for healthy blood pressure!

For optimal blood pressure—you need balanced levels of a gaseous molecule called Nitric Oxide—"NO" for short.

NO is naturally produced in your body from arginine and oxygen. Simply put, NO signals the surrounding blood vessels to relax.

When your blood vessels are relaxed, they can open up and allow blood to easily pass through. This widening process is called vasodilation. And it's important because vasodilation naturally INCREASES your blood flow and DECREASES your blood pressure.

NO can also help keep your blood platelets from sticking together and becoming thick like ketchup. Studies show that low levels of NO have been linked to blood pressure problems as well as more serious heart problems.

The good news is: Mother Nature's pharmacy contains a remarkable nutrient that has a profound effect on your body's NO production. It's called Grapeseed Extract.

Numerous studies show the benefits of grapeseed extract when it comes to promoting healthy blood pressure. For example...

In a study presented at the FASEB (Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology) 2007 conference, researchers tried to determine the effect of grapeseed extract on 22 patients with early signs of potential blood pressure problems. They selected this group because more than 69 million American adults fall into this category—putting them at a higher risk for serious heart problems.

The patients were divided into two groups: The grapeseed extract group was given 300 mg/day for eight weeks. The other group received a placebo. Blood pressure readings were recorded at the start and end of the test period. The results?

The grapeseed extract group reduced their systolic (upper number) blood pressure by 8.3 mmHg and their diastolic (lower number) by 5.7 mmHg! In other words, many of these folks were no longer worried about their blood pressure—it returned to the normal range!

Another similar study was conducted, but this time it was with people with metabolic problems—which increase your risk of developing cardiovascular and blood sugar health scares.

After just four weeks, the study results showed the ones taking just 150 mg of grapeseed extract experienced a 13 mmHg drop in systolic and a 6 mmHg drop in diastolic blood pressure!

Here's what makes grapeseed extract such a powerful blood pressure aid...

...Turns out this amazing nutrient not only causes blood vessels to relax by controlling nitric oxide...

...It also has the uncanny ability to act as a natural calcium channel blocker—and prevent calcium from entering in the muscle cells of the heart and arteries!

This is phenomenal news because calcium causes plaque to build up in your arteries! With grapeseed extract, you have a natural plaque blocker at your disposal!

So far you've seen how you can help keep calcium out of your arteries with vitamin K2 and boost healthy production of nitric oxide to promote relaxed arteries for optimal blood flow with grapeseed extract.

Now, you need this 3rd amazing nutrient to help keep your blood pressure healthy—especially when you're under stress...

Step #3: Ease blood vessel constriction and water retention! This secret weapon is proven 98% effective!

Scientists know the enzyme called

"Blood pressure is the force of blood against the walls of your arteries. It is recorded as two numbers—the systolic pressure (as the heart beats) over the diastolic pressure (as the heart relaxes between beats). Normal blood pressure is less than 130 mmHg systolic (millimeters of mercury) and less than 80 mmHg diastolic—or "120 over 80."

High blood pressure, or "hypertension" is blood pressure that's 140 over 90 mmHg or higher."

Individual results may vary. These statements have not been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration. This product is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease.

It may be the “Silent Killer”—but you do get warning signs!

You may not think you have high blood pressure—but if you’re experiencing any of these early warning signs—get your blood pressure checked immediately:

- Morning headaches
- Dizziness
- Ringing in your ears
- Nosebleeds
- Depression
- Blurred vision
- Tension
- Flushing in your face
- Fainting

And if your blood pressure is more than 130 over 80 – this is your WAKE-UP call to ACT NOW!

Get Ultimate BP™ during this special, limited-time invitation—and see the difference it makes in your health!

Angiotensin II is notorious for constricting blood vessels. This can cause damage to the lining of your blood vessels as the blood tries to squeeze through. It can also make your arteries hard and stiff.

What’s more, this nasty enzyme can elevate your sodium levels—causing you to retain water—and raise your blood pressure.

But you can help stop production of Angiotensin II with Angiotensin-Converting Enzyme (ACE) inhibitors!

And when you inhibit this enzyme—you can help prevent your arteries from stiffening, tightening, and reducing blood flow.

The good news is: Research now shows an amazing superfruit contains natural ACE inhibiting properties. And guess what? This nutritional powerhouse may already be in your refrigerator!

It’s Blueberries! Surprised?

Most folks are. But clinical trials and research studies now prove a highly concentrated form of blueberries may just be the unsung heroes for promoting healthy blood pressure. Take a look...

In one study printed in the Journal of Medicinal Food, researchers treated cells with ACE. Then they exposed the cells to two different concentrations of blueberry extract. The results?

The cells treated with the highest concentration of blueberry extract inhibited ACE by a whopping 98%! Can you believe that? 98%! But that’s not all...

Journal of the American College of Nutrition

USDA scientists discovered eating wild blueberries can help prevent oxidative stress. Remember, oxidative stress can trigger many serious health problems including hardening of the arteries and heart failure! Wild blueberries contain powerful antioxidants that combat free radical damage that causes oxidative stress!

Blueberries also contain polyphenols to fight inflammation that can weaken and even seriously damage your blood vessels—and lead to a serious heart or brain problem!

5 more surprising causes of blood pressure problems

You probably know that your blood pressure can be high if you're overweight... suffer from blood sugar imbalances... or have kidney problems. But here are five more little-known causes of uncontrollable blood pressure:

- Obstructive sleep apnea (OSA)—this occurs when the muscles in your throat area relax too much while you sleep. This allows your tonsils and adenoids to collapse and block your upper airways during sleep—causing a drop in your oxygen intake. Common symptoms include snoring, gasping for air while asleep, and feeling drowsy during the day. According to the Sleep Resource Foundation, 83% of people with resistant hypertension also suffer from sleep apnea!
- Aldosteronism—occurs when your adrenal glands secrete too much of the hormone called aldosterone. This causes fluid retention, which raises your blood pressure. Your potassium levels often drop significantly when there is too much aldosterone in your body—and this can cause muscle spasms, overall weakness, and even temporary paralysis!
- Over-the-counter painkillers—including nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) such as ibuprofen (Motrin®, Advil®) and naproxen (Aleve®) all promote fluid retention!
- Popular decongestants and even diet pills—can narrow your blood vessels and raise blood pressure! What's more, amphetamines, stimulants, drugs taken for attention deficit disorders, and even oral contraceptives cause fluid retention and can escalate your blood pressure!
- Salt—this may not be a surprise to you—but most folks don't realize that salt creates a double whammy when it comes to your blood pressure. That's because in 15 percent of persons with high blood pressure, a high-sodium diet not only increases your blood pressure—but it can also wipe out the effects of many blood pressure drugs!

When it comes to maintaining healthy blood pressure—you can see why the odds are stacked against you. Fortunately, you can take control of your blood pressure and keep it in the normal range—without dangerous drugs—thanks to Ultimate BP™!

reported in the journal, Nutritional Neuroscience that polyphenols found in blueberries can improve brain function, enhance memory recall, and douse the flames of inflammation!

Promote healthy cholesterol too!

Scientists at the University of California at Davis report blueberries can also reduce the buildup of “bad” LDL cholesterol that contributes to cardiovascular problems.

Researchers with the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported results of an animal study showing blueberries were more effective in lowering cholesterol levels than the cholesterol medication, Ciprofibrate. Here's the proof...

All the hamsters in the study were fed a high-cholesterol diet. One group received blueberry skins and the other group received the drug. The results?

The drug group lowered their cholesterol levels by 17%. Not bad. But the blueberries group lowered their cholesterol levels by an astounding 37%! Much better—and safer!

Researchers attributed the cholesterol-lowering effect to a compound in blueberries called pterostilbene (pronounced: “terr-oh-still-bean”). This is an amazing compound that causes your liver cells to remove excess cholesterol.

Was this study a fluke?

Hardly!

In another study published in the British Journal of Nutrition, Canadian researchers supplemented the diet of pigs with about

“Stress would’ve normally been a problem!”

“I started Ultimate BP™ during some very stressful times. When I went to my doctor’s appointment for a follow up, he was surprised that my blood pressure was doing so good. He had been expecting it to be higher. Surprised him and me too! ” two cups of blueberries a day. The result?

The pigs’ LDL or “bad cholesterol” dropped 20%! That’s how powerful blueberries can be!

Consumer Warning!

Read your label!

Several supplement companies have jumped on the vitamin K2 bandwagon and are looking to make a quick buck.

But when you read the labels on their products, it will most likely say, "Contains Vitamin K2 with MK-7". Be careful. This is very misleading. All vitamin K2 has MK-1 through MK-13. The label needs to reveal exactly how much of MK-7 is in their formula. Most don't disclose that information because their product contains just a tiny amount of this essential nutrient.

Ultimate BP™ gives you a whopping 45 mcg of PURE MK-7 for optimum vascular health! You can be sure you're getting the REAL McCoy with Ultimate BP™! Call TOLL-FREE 1-800-746-4513 today to get your introductory trial pack!
